

What Violations Will Cause Your Auto Insurance Rates To Increase?

There are many factors that may cause your auto insurance rates to increase. These factors might include having a number of accidents, adding teen drivers or buying a newer car. The primary factors that will contribute to increased auto insurance rates are moving violations. Also, drivers who file an auto insurance claim will see their rates climb by an average of 38% nationwide, while those who file two claims within a 12-month period can expect to pay nearly twice as much as claim-free drivers, according to a new report by Quadrant Information Systems.

The Most Expensive Auto Violations Nationwide Include:

1. DUI—93% increase in insurance premium
2. Reckless driving—82% increase
3. Speeding, 30% increase for 31+ mph over the limit; 28% increase for 16-30mph over the limit; 21% increase for 1-15mph over the limit
4. Careless driving—27% increase
5. Failure to stop—19% increase
6. Failure to yield to pedestrians—19% increase
7. Driving in a carpool lane—18% increase

Be a defensive driver

Combine your home and auto with one insurer. If you purchase your auto, homeowners and umbrella coverage from one carrier, for example, the impact of violations on premiums may be less severe.

Request Quote

Use an independent agent who can shop your insurance on a regular basis.

Cyber Risk Prevention

According to IT Business Edge, 50% of businesses listed cyber security as one of their top five business risks.

“Security

- Do not use the same password for multiple accounts, especially important accounts such as online banking or an online store with your credit card on file.
- Install security software designed for your business.
- Use read-only view on word documents.
- Review bank and credit card statements regularly.
- Having the company’s database on a different web server than the application server.

Meet Our Team

Juan Garcia

CORNING OFFICE: Customer Service Representative, CSR, Hablo español

2947 Victor Avenue Redding, CA 96002 (530) 223-0637
705 Fourth St. Corning, CA 96021 (530) 838-9098

www.berrycurtisinsurance.com